General Information

Any freight price quoted is based on a single delivery to the nominated delivery point unless expressly stated otherwise. Where split or partial deliveries are made, or the delivery address changes at the customer's request, AWE reserves the right to adjust pricing accordingly. Additional factors outside of the single delivery will likely incur additional charges, which will become the responsibility of the customer. Commercial shipping address must be provided where possible, all residential delivery will attract additional costs. Some site assembly of equipment components may be required. The recipient must ensure that a responsible person(s) be in attendance at the time of delivery to avoid repeat delivery costs.

Dispatch and Shipping

If the Customer/Purchaser requested delivery to be arranged by AWE in writing, then it will be deemed to take place upon the dispatch of the Goods from AWE's warehouse or factory. The Customer/Purchaser agrees to cover any costs, charges, duties, taxes, surcharges, and levies associated with delivery.

Unloading at Delivery Address

Unloading must take place within a reasonable timeframe so as not incur demurrage and detention back charges. Unloading at point of delivery is the responsibility of the recipient. The goods will be delivered on wooden skids, suitably packed, and restrained for road transportation and fork truck unloading. The recipient must ensure that there will be suitable unloading equipment and resources available at the destination point. If the freight carrying company invoice any surcharges for unloading to AWE, these will be the responsibility of the Customer/Purchaser.

Title and Risk

The risk in the Goods passes to the Customer/Purchaser upon the goods being delivered to the Customer/Purchaser. Unless otherwise stated, AWE shall not be liable for any delay in delivering caused by a Force Majeure event beyond its reasonable control during the transit. Under no circumstances will AWE become liable to pay liquidated damages in the event of late delivery. Reservation of legal title of goods supplied remains with Australian Water Engineers Pty Ltd until goods have been paid for in full.

Insurance

Transit insurance cover is held by AWE for goods transported anywhere inland up to a specified value, however this should not be relied upon by the Customer/Purchaser, and you should independently insure against any losses that may be suffered during transportation.
